

Talisman Alternate Endings

Jason Hughes

If any rules do not work for you, change them to best suit your game. Have Fun!

1 Guillotine Axe

1. Owner rolls 2d6 for weapon bonus, and may use this number as either Strength or Craft.
2. Owner must teleport to another player and challenge them to death.
3. Guillotine Axe can destroy any selected object plus take a life.
4. If the Guillotine Axe is destroyed or taken by another player it is forever lost. A new card will then replace it in the crown of command.

2 Bloodsucker

1. Roll 3d6 for her Strength and 3d6 for her Craft.
2. She absorbs all wolves, werewolves, vampires or bats in the graveyard, or in play, as her total number of lives.
3. She alternates her attacks with Craft (death spell) one round then Strength (vampire bite) the next.
4. A player who has been bitten will become undead and unable to heal these lost lives.

3 Granite Monolith

1. Roll 5d6 for Strength and 1d6 for Craft. It has 3 lives.
2. A player may lower its attributes by one point with each discarded item. (roll 1-4=Strength 5-6=Craft)
3. Monolith automatically crushes one random item each round of combat.
4. If the player has no items to crush they lose their choice of one Strength or one Craft.

4 Paraplegia Worm

1. Roll 1d6 for Strength and 1d6 for Craft. It has 1-6 lives.
2. Dragon (swarm spell) calls all dragons in the graveyard, or in play, to its aid. Each dragon will add one point to its attributes (1-3=Strength 4-6=Craft)
3. Worm alternates attacks with Strength (dragon bite) one round then Craft (particle breath) the next.
4. A player may lower its attributes by one point with each discarded item or follower. (1-3=Strength 4-6=Craft)

5 Emperor Toad

1. He turns all players to toads (permanent) They may not use any items or spells.
2. Monsters drawn or in play will hunt the toads by moving one space towards them each round.
3. Toads are cursed. If they hop backwards they will lose one life.
4. If a player has been a toad during the game, they will be crowned as champion. (Winner)
5. If more than one player has been a toad during the game. They will fight as original characters to the death. (Winner)